

COMMENT OF THE DAY

Crucial Test

IT is strange to find democracy firm in Germany and insecure in France. How ironical it is that the blood-stained aggressor of 15 years ago is courted and made much of while the victim is held in less esteem. The German people are working night and day to achieve rehabilitation yet France lags behind, living on United States aid. The country faced a crisis over the Indo-China issue, but the new "strong man" pulled the French through. It can only be hoped that it was not a stop-gap measure like many of their policies since the war and that it will be lasting. The stop-gap measures have been like their Premiers here today and gone tomorrow. The country appears to lack the stamina or ability to pull itself together. M. Mendes-France weathered his first storm and he now faces three more, one of which could spell political ruin, causing him to join the long list of deposed Premiers. His "new deal" should pass the Assembly, if only for the reason that no other member of that erratic body can produce a better scheme for saving the country from financial and economic ruin. He is bound to meet with strong opposition over the Tunisian self-rule issue as the powerful colonialists within the Government, pressed by financial interests could easily sway the sentimentalists.

THE French press in Tunisia have already started their campaign and have accused M. Mendes-France of "treason." It is to be hoped that the realists will support the Government and overcome the influence exerted by the colonialists. The European Defence Community debate will, of course, be the test of tests and success here could mean stability for the first time in decades. There has been too little stability and unity because no Premier has been given the chance to cultivate such vital national qualities. Whatever he proposed in the past in the country's interests always offended some partisan interest and out he went. Will M. Mendes-France be strong enough to cut through this democratic decay and rule France in the best interests of her people? The EDC debate later in the month will decide that question. If Germany can produce a stable Government through the polling-booths then surely France with her enlightened traditions should be able to do so. Her friends can do little. She must help herself as a strong, proud France is necessary for Europe and the world.

Britain's New Super Jet

ENGLISH Electric have again produced an outstanding war plane. Their Canberra was quickly snapped up by the United States, and if past "buys" are any criterion the new P-1 fighter, capable of crashing the sound barrier in level flight will be over the Atlantic as a dollar earner in about March 3. It is pleasing to note that Armstrong's have apparently overcome the troubles they had with the Sapphires jets as both the P-1 and the Havilland 110 (now in production for the Fleet Air Arm) are powered by these engines.

20 KILLED IN MOB RIOT

Vietnam Forces Attacked By Demonstrators

Hanoi, Aug. 5. Vietnam troops opened fire on an enraged mob north of Hue, killing 20 people and wounding several others, the French authorities announced today.

The mob, some of whom were armed, were described as "Vietnam-inspired demonstrators". They attacked Vietnamese soldiers stationed at Kim Loi, five miles north of Hue in Central Vietnam, forcing the troops to fire in self-defence.

The cause of the riot, which took place on the night of Tuesday-Wednesday, was not immediately made clear.

The French authorities said they were forced to send out planes in Wednesday night near the beach coasted over another mob at near-ground level to scare them off.

The pilots did not use guns, a French spokesman said.

Poles Claim London PCs 'Beat Them'

When They Removed Young Stowaway

London, Aug. 6. Warsaw Radio broadcast interviews early today with members of the crew of the Polish ship Jaroslav Dabrowski, who said British police beat them up with truncheons when Antoni Klimowicz was taken off the ship in the Thames last week.

The broadcast, quoted by Reuter, said the interviews given to the Polish news agency PAP showed the London incident was "an act of violence unprecedented in the history of world shipping."

One of the crew, Maksymilian Stachowiak, said: "The police behaved brutally. One of them knocked down the boat-swain. A second kicked him in the stomach. A third kicked him in the face and a fourth beat him on the head with a truncheon."

Stachowiak was quoted as saying: "Five policemen jumped on me and hit me on the head." He said the whole crew were "dumbfounded" when more than 100 policemen invaded the deck.

"LAWLESSNESS" A ship's officer, Zdzislaw Zerkowski, was said to have stated in the interview: "I have visited many ports in the world but I have never heard of such lawlessness."

"The beating up of Polish sailors on their own ship, which enjoys the right of extra-territoriality, has provoked profound indignation among the crew and the majority of the English public," he added according to Warsaw Radio.

The captain of the ship, which was prevented from sailing by a writ from Lord Chief Justice Goddard demanding that Klimowicz, a stowaway, should be produced in a British court, was also quoted in the broadcast.

Captain Miroslaw Glowinski said: "Our experience proves that certain circles in Britain do not miss any opportunity to prevent the reduction of tension in international relations and even to make it more acute."

"At the same time it has been shown that honest people are not denied the right of asylum in England."

"As a proof of that I shall state two facts. On the ship which I command travelled from London to Gdynia the prominent American physiologist, Dr. Joseph Gold, who was not granted the right of political asylum in England."

"But at the same time political asylum was granted to a common criminal, Antoni Klimowicz. And that only in order to provoke new incidents," Captain Glowinski was reported as saying.—Reuter.

Octuplets Born?

Manila, Aug. 6. An unconfirmed report received last night from the town of Naga in Camarines Sur said that eight babies (octuplets)—five boys and three girls—were born on Monday to a young woman in that province.

The report was immediately regarded as incredible. It did not mention the name of the mother, but it quoted a director of the Lady Medatrix Hospital as saying that the mother and her eight babies were doing well.

The mother, according to the report, came from the mountain village in Iriga town which is near Naga. Camarines Sur is located about 480 nautical miles south-east of Manila.—France-Press.

Millions Fight Yangtze Flood Waters

London, Aug. 5. The New China News Agency reported today that nearly a million people are working to strengthen dykes against the rising Hun and Yangtze rivers. At Wuhan on the Yangtze, the Agency said, "the dykes still exist about in the race between the rising dykes and the rising rivers."

"This was despite the fact that today's record level of the still rising river is almost six feet higher than on the same date in 1941, when the city was submerged."

All available materials and food supplies were being rushed to work points on the Hun river where the Government is building a large-scale irrigation system. The fight was in its "tensest stage,"—Reuter.

Woman Murdered By Her Friend

Menlo Park, Calif., Aug. 5. A 36-year-old housewife was today shot and killed, as her 10-year-old son watched, by a woman friend who then sped away in a late model Cadillac.

Mrs. Pat Oberhaus was killed by three shots through the chest as she stood talking to her friend in front of her home. Mrs. Oberhaus was the wife of the manager of a swimming construction firm in this exclusive San Francisco suburban residential area.

The alleged assailant was arrested a short time later at her home. Police identified her as Mrs. Doris Glass, 40, Police Inspector William Kieler said.

Mrs. Glass, whose home was in Menlo Park's most fashionable section, admitted shooting her friend but gave no reason for the shooting.

"I don't know why I did it," Inspector Kieler quoted her as saying.—United Press.

Assassin's Bullet Killed Wrong Man

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 5. Major Rubens Florentino Vaz of the Brazilian Air Force was killed today when he was struck by an assassin's bullet intended for the prominent Opposition newspaper publisher, Carlos Lacerda.

Lacerda, a member of the board and former Secretary-General of the Inter-American Press Association, was wounded in the foot.

The publisher, his son Sergio and Major Vaz had just left the Lacerda residence in the exclusive Copacabana district when the gunman came from behind and began firing.

Major Vaz was fatally shot in the chest. Lacerda's son escaped uninjured. The publisher was pulled out of the street by several shots at the fleeing assassin but apparently missed him.

Lacerda's evening newspaper, has been conducting a campaign against President Getulio Vargas and other government officials.

Why Tunisian Premier Changed His Cabinet

Tunis, Aug. 5. Premier-designate Tahar ben Amar dropped French-vetoed nationalists from his proposed Cabinet today and offered a second, more moderate list as his cabinet for negotiating home rule.

Ben Amar conferred throughout the day after the Bey of Tunis, acting in consultation with the French Resident-General, withheld his approval of the Premier's first selections.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France had barred the inclusion of any member of the Neo-Destour nationalist Party who played a leading role in the attempt last year to get the United Nations to intervene in French North Africa.

The presence of Buh Laldham, Neo-Destour representative in New York, among the proposed members in the Government of the wealthy and moderate Ben Amar was not acceptable to the new Resident-General Major-General Pierre Loyer de la Tour.

Moreover, the Cabinet did not take into adequate account the other political tendencies which offer competition to the leading Neo-Destour, the French and the Bey.

ATMOSPHERE GOOD The political atmosphere was excellent despite Ben Amar's failure to win immediate approval of the first Tunisian Cabinet which will bargain with France for self-government.

The Neo-Destour leader, Habib Bourguiba, who is still technically under house arrest at Mont Regis, France, consulted frequently by telephone with Ben Amar.

It was Bourguiba who advised Ben Amar not to argue against the French insistence that the Cabinet be barred to men such as Salah ben Youssef and Mohammed Bacha of the Neo-Destour, who had made the original Tunisian complaint against France at the United Nations in 1951.

War Criminals Released

Bonn, Aug. 5. Three German war criminals, Walter Schenk, Totzauer and Karl Wiedemann, were released from the British jail at Werl today, the British High Commission announced in Bonn.

The released men had been serving 15 to 20 year terms for killing and ill-treating Allied nationals in Nazi concentration camps. They were freed on recommendation of the British West German Mixed Clemency Board, set up earlier this year.—Reuter.

Dr Cort In Warsaw

London, Aug. 5. Dr. Joseph Cort, 20-year-old American lecturer, on his way to political asylum in Czechoslovakia, arrived in Warsaw today with his wife, Warsaw Radio stated tonight.

Dr. Cort, who was ordered out of Britain, travelled from London to Gdynia in the Polish freighter, Jaroslawa Dabrowski.

Dr. Cort, physiology lecturer at Birmingham University, had his permit to stay in England removed when it was found that he would lose his American citizenship if he did not return to face allegations that he had evaded United States citizenship.

He has been granted political asylum by the Czechoslovak Government.—Reuter.

More Squally Showers Likely Today

Further squally showers with light southerly winds are forecast for this afternoon.

The heavy skies showed no signs of clearing and fresh gusts of wind from the south-east swept through the Colony earlier this morning.

The tropical storm which sprung up suddenly about 80 miles south of the Colony on Thursday has entered the east near Kwong Chau Wan, this morning, where it is apparently filling up.

However, according to the Director of the Royal Observatory, "there is little information coming from that region."

The strong wind signal which was hoisted at 4 p.m. yesterday, was lowered at 8 o'clock this morning.

A further 1.83 inches of rain fell in the 24 hours up to 9 a.m. today, bringing the total rainfall since January 1 to 33.75 inches—about half of the average.

Only 215 million gallons of water had gone into the Colony reservoirs up to this morning, making a total of 3,095 million gallons. This is about 3,000 million gallons short of full capacity.

The Director of Public Works, the Hon. T.L. Bowring, said he hoped the run-off would continue for some days.

MACAO LASHED The storm passed about 110 miles south of Macao lashing the Colony with gale force winds.

Rainfall recorded during the past 24 hours amounted to 2.25 inches.

No damage was reported and there were no casualties from accidents.—France-Press.

Big 3 May Reject Soviet Proposal For 4-Power Talks

London, Aug. 5. The United States, France and Britain are likely to reject Russia's latest proposal for a four-power conference in August or September, according to usually well-informed quarters.

The proposal, made in a Soviet note delivered yesterday in Washington, London and Paris, was reviewed at a three-power meeting of officials at the British Foreign Office today.

The meeting had earlier been called to draft a reply to the Soviet note of July 24 which proposed a general European conference to establish an all-European collective security pact.

The impression in London today was that the second Soviet proposal depended closely on the first and could only be accepted by the West if they had agreed to the European conference plan.

In fact, diplomatic quarters in London believed that the three Western Governments had already decided to reject this proposal.

NO ADVANCE All three, it was understood, held the view that the July proposal contained no advance on an earlier Soviet proposal for a European pact, which had been rejected in May.

The Western powers, it was felt here, could hardly agree to a four-power conference to prepare a wider conference if they were rejecting the proposal to hold a general European conference.

While yesterday's Soviet note reopened the question of the future of Germany, scarcely touched in the July note, the opinion in London was that no fresh constructive proposal was made on the German issue.

And it was noted that in yesterday's note no reference at all was made to the question of the Austrian State treaty.—Reuter.

Cure Claimed For Typhoid Fever

Lansing, Michigan, Aug. 6. Michigan's Health Commissioner, Dr. Albert Lee Heustis, announced today the State laboratories had developed the first known cure for typhoid fever.

He said the cure was a new antibiotic called bismethin, which the laboratories have been developing for more than five years.

It had been tested on human beings in Mexico for the past two months and had produced complete cures in 12 cases.

"We had only enough to treat 16 cases under controlled conditions," Dr. Heustis said. "We had only two cases of recurrence of the disease and when we increased the dosage the disease disappeared in 72 hours."

He said this was the most effective drug against the disease yet found.—Reuter.

Lightning Strikes Adlai Stevenson's Plane

Sheridan, Wyoming, Aug. 5. Lightning struck the high frequency antenna of a plane carrying Mr. Adlai Stevenson, 11 other passengers and the crew today, but the plane landed safely.

The plane, carrying the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, was en route from Great Falls to Billings, Montana. It landed safely in Billings, Sheridan Airport officials reported.—United Press.

French Assembly Discussing Economic Bill

Paris, Aug. 5.

The French National Assembly today began discussing the draft bill to give the Government special powers in economic and financial matters.

The vote is expected to take place late on Friday, or Saturday night. Without meeting any serious obstacles on the way, the only clashes likely to occur will be over the restrictions to the original draft imposed by the Finance Committee, which reduced the scope of the bill by making December 31 this year the date on which the special powers are to end instead of March 31, next year.

The committee also restricted the extent of the bill to those fields of economic affairs particularly mentioned in it. A further controversial point may be over the question of wage increases. The Economic Council has already voted by 133 votes to one with 27 abstentions in favour of the bill for special powers, but it also voted for wage increases in terms which are not entirely in line with those suggested by the Government.

The Government has said that increased production will benefit the workers, and that major wage increases must be proportionate to increases in the national revenue. They must follow increased production according to the Government's view.

Basic Factor In Balkans Security

Paris, Aug. 5.

The French Premier, M. Pierre Mendes-France, told the Paris correspondent of the Yugoslav newspaper, Politika, in an exclusive interview that the Yugoslav-Turkish pact was the "basic factor for security in the Balkans and in Europe."

The interview was quoted tonight by the Yugoslav Tanjug news agency, which stated according to messages reaching Paris that M. Mendes-France also said, "I am very glad that efforts are now being made for the strengthening of that pact and I do not doubt that those efforts will bring about results which will be in the interests of all."

Referring to Franco-Yugoslav relations, M. Mendes-France expressed the belief that these relations could develop in many fields.

MANY TIES

"Our two countries," he said, "are united by so many ties from the past and friendship is very deeply rooted. The consciousness of this friendship should drive us on our efforts to further development in our relations not only economic and cultural, but also political."

The French Premier also referred to the results of the Geneva Conference, saying, "We can say at present" among other things, "that the agreement, in Geneva springing from the conviction of all the participants that an end should be put to the war. The next stage is the independence of the three countries in Indo-China. We wish this independence to be definitely affirmed and respected by all."

GERMAN RELATIONS

Turning to Franco-German relations, M. Mendes-France stressed that he had declared several times in Parliament that the harmonising of Franco-German relations on a sane and lasting basis was one of the basic guarantees of peace.

The interview will be published in Belgrade tomorrow. —France-Press.

JAP PILLBOXES

New Britain, Aug. 6. Concrete pillboxes and concrete-lined tunnels built by the Japanese at Rabaul during world war II are causing trouble for contractors here who have to clear them for building. The tunnels riddle the town area. Pillboxes still stand on some of the best building blocks.

Contractors estimate it will cost $20,000 to clear them before an extensive building project, planned for Rabaul, can get under way. —Reuters.

RESERVE UNITS ALERTED

U.S. Bolstering Air Defences

Washington, Aug. 5.

The Air Force announced today that fighter plane units of the Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve eventually will be put in a "ready alert" status to bolster America's air defences.

As a starter, Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott said that starting August 15 jet fighter detachments of nine Guard squadrons will maintain a 14-hour daylight alert at their home stations in eight states.

The units will operate under Gen. Benjamin W. Childs, newly-named chief of the new Continental Defence Command which embraces elements of all the military services.

Mr. Talbott said it is expected that the plan "will be expanded to include all Air National Guard fighter units and eventually Air Force Reserve units."

At the start, the squadrons will keep two jet planes, five pilots, and 10 maintenance men on alert at all times at each of the selected sites.

Active duty period may run as long as two months for pilots, the Air Force said. Technicians will be Guard members employed as civilians.—United Press.

Church Not Communistic

Chicago, Aug. 5.

A spokesman for the World Council of Churches denied charges that the group has "Communist tendencies."

The Rev. Timothy Two Slang Hui and Quok Klok Chang, Vice-President and Secretary, respectively, of the Far Eastern Council of Christian Churches, criticised the World Council yesterday in speeches to the International Council of Churches at Elkins Park, Pennsylvania.

Hui said that modernist churchmen are launching "a master plan to capture the entire church."

The World Council spokesman said, "Well-informed church people should not be disturbed by the disrupting reports which will probably come from the Elkins Park meeting for the next 10 days. The record of this group is such that neither the church population nor the general public should be deceived.—United Press.

International Commodity Commission

Geneva, Aug. 5.

The United Nations Economic and Social Council today decided to set up a commission on international commodity trade, despite opposition from Britain, France and the United States.

Russia was among the 12 countries which voted for the Argentinean resolution proposing the commission. It will have 11 members elected by the Council and will survey the situation in the international commodity trade when it meets early next year.

It will attempt to co-ordinate inter-governmental action against sharp fluctuations in trade between nations.

Any member of the United Nations may bring problems before the commission and take part in debates concerning them, the resolution said.

INDIVIDUAL GOVTS.

Sir Alec Randall, for Britain, said that no action should be taken until the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade review of international trade in November. But he said that his Government would do its utmost to make the commission work if elected to it.

The United States delegation said commodities were a question for individual governments and not for international action.

The motion was supported by Nationalist China, Argentina, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, Egypt, India, Pakistan, Turkey, Russia, Venezuela and Yugoslavia.

Norway, Belgium and Australia abstained.—Reuters.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Good Playing May Lead to Trouble

By OSWALD JACOBY

As a general rule, the better you play bridge, the more points you will score. Once in a while, however, as today's hand shows, your brilliant play will land you in the soup.

When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the contract was four hearts at both tables. At both tables, likewise, West opened the seven of spades.

The first East won the first trick with the ten of spades, continued with the king of spades, and then led the ace of spades. This gave the declarer a chance to go wrong. If South ruffed with a low trump, West would overruff and cash the ace of clubs immediately to set the contract.

The declarer in the first room saw this danger and therefore ruffed with the ace of trump in order to prevent an overruff.

He next led a trump to dummy's king and cashed the queen of spades to discard the queen of clubs. West got a trump trick, but not a club trick, and South made his contract.

At the second table, East won the trick with the ten of spades and saw that a spade continuation would do no good. East brilliantly returned the seven of clubs at the second trick, hoping that his partner would take the ace of clubs and lead his remaining spade. A spade continuation would then assure West of a trump trick, to defeat the contract.

It was a brilliant idea, and East is to be congratulated on discovering the only defence that had a chance to defeat the contract. Unfortunately for East, however, his partner could not read the play.

When East led the seven of clubs at the second trick, West naturally took the ace of clubs. West decided that his partner must have returned a singleton club, and he therefore led another club at the third trick.

This defence, gave declarer the chance to throw off his losing spade, and South wound up making 11 tricks. East had found the only line of play that could possibly defeat the contract, but this result was only to give declarer an extra trick.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
East South West North
1 Dmd. Double Pass 1 Heart
Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades K-7-4-3, Hearts K-7-5-2, Diamond 4, Clubs A-J-6-3. What do you do?

A—Pass or bid two hearts. You have only 12 points in high cards and game is almost out of the question, since your partner could not make a jump response. The conservative course is to pass, but you cannot be criticized severely for a raise to two hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-7-4-3, Hearts K-7-5-2, Diamond 4, Clubs A-J-6-3. What do you do?

Answer—Tomorrow

BY THE WAY

EATERS who fear that the foul food they get in restaurants may be poisoning them, have been given hope by a statistician. It has been ascertained that if you eat three meals a day in restaurants, "it would be 1,335 years before you were statistically poisoned."

You may, of course, be poisoned by your very first meal on the very first day of your round of the restaurants, poisoned, but not statistically poisoned. If you recover, you have 1,335 years, all but a few days, to resume your adventures with chemical food. Good morning, raw material of statistics.

Ignorant opposition

COUNCILLOR D. B. Wyndham Lewis has suggested that pretty litter-horesses should tour the streets with dainty bins—a kind of litter-flag-day. ("Won't you give me a used bus-ticket Sir?" by ridiculing it. This is not constructive criticism of an idea already supported by Mrs. Gregson, Canon Huff, and Dame Olive Stone. Many girls have nothing to do until the cocktail parties start in the evening. By enrolling as litter-horesses they could enjoy a healthy open-air life, and prepare themselves for a career of civic-consciousness. As Japanea Rivers-Cowpe said yesterday, "I get quite a thrill every time I pick a cigarette butt out of the gutter."

For the under-forties

His cat, Moopsie, has measles, and his aunt lives at Chilswade with two friends who make gaiters for poachers. Bop thinks they poach eggs, and his friend the Iron-monger has given him a ball made of string. Bop prefers his trumpet stuffed with charcoal. He plays it when it is snowing.

Tomorrow Bop is going to give the Admiral a bottle with a lemon in it. Won't it be fun?

Tck, tck

A WEALTHY woman who, while dining in a nightclub, was robbed of eleven precious stones which she carried in her reticule for publicity purposes, rang up a newspaper to report the event to a man she knew. "I've lost eleven stones," she said in a tearful voice. "Really?" replied the man, "keep it up. You'll soon be as slim as Babs," mentioning a rival.

YOUR BIRTHDAY... By STELLA

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6

BORN today you are affectionate, faithful and devoted to members of your own family as well as to those of other families. You are fond of children and they are fond of you. Teaching is a profession in which you would excel. You have a fine mind. You enjoy books and will want a large library of your own. In fact, you may need to force yourself into more social contact with others, for you are a little inclined to become a bookworm. As a child you were probably more apt to curl up with a good book than to be out playing games with the other children. The stars have given you literary and poetry gifts that should be developed. You are also a good judge of the arts and might make a fine professional critic. You have a tendency to put off until tomorrow something which should be done today. But there are so many to-morrows that you end up as soon as you can. Don't procrastinate.

You are fond of your home and will be happiest if you wed fairly early in life and have your own family to care for. You are sensitive in showing your affection and should wed someone who is similarly inclined. Among those who were born on this date are: Daniel O'Connell, Irish patriot; The Marquis de La Fayette, French statesman; Lord Tennyson, poet; Paul Claudel, French statesman; Ruth Suckow, novelist. To find what the stars have in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—The aspects for an enjoyable week-end are in prospect for you. Get away from home for a change, if you can. VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Don't neglect important business decisions, just because this is not a regular working day. A good time to advance. LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—The stars appear to give you a favour. Finish some of the things you have been planning to do lately. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—You can plan to do what you want now. Draw up a blueprint and then follow it carefully for excellent results. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Develop a new idea. If you are shrewd in business dealings, you should really make a good profit from it. CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Perhaps a short trip into the country will be just what you need. Helps build health and energy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Matters are beginning to brighten again. Fair signs are ahead for the coming week-end, figuratively speaking, anyway. PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—If you are on vacation this week, you will be happy to be out of a "wonderful time. A new romance? ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Spend a few hours in quiet recreation. Too much strenuous activity is not too good for you. TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)—All aspects are decidedly in your favour now. Accomplish something you have had in mind to do for a long time. GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Sun is bright again on your horizon. Now you can make plans with confidence and a few hours in quiet recreation. CANCER (June 22-July 22)—A couple of excellent days, so take advantage of them. If you are exactly what you want to do now.

Do You Like Chocolate?

—You May, but Cows and Robins Don't!

By MAX TRELL

KNARF, the shadow-boy with the turned-about name, was walking down the road singing at the top of his voice: "The thing that I like best to eat is something sweet, like a chocolate bar!"

Just as Knarf was singing this song in the loudest possible way, he heard a deep voice at the side of the road saying: "That song is wrong, Knarf!"

"Wrong?" said Knarf, as he looked around to see who was talking to him. He saw that it was a cow.

A Cow's Correction

"Yes, the song is wrong," said the cow. "This is how it should go:

"The thing that I like best to eat is something sweet, like grass."

Knarf was just about to say "Why, that doesn't sound at all right," when he heard a warbling voice saying in a loud, warbling way: "Your song is wrong, cow."

"Is it?" said the cow, looking around at the fence. Knarf looked around at the fence, too. They both saw a robin.

"Yes the song is wrong," repeated the robin. "It should go like this:

"The thing that I like best to eat is something sweet, like a worm."

Knarf and the cow were astonished to hear this, since neither of them cared much for worms. Just then they heard a squeaky, squeaky kind of little voice. The voice came from behind two or three dandelions and buttercups. It said: "Your song is wrong, robin. Your song is wrong, too, cow. And so is your song wrong, Knarf. All your songs are wrong."

"Who are you?" said Knarf, the cow and the robin.

"I'm me," said the squeaky, squeaky voice.

Knarf and the cow and the robin looked very hard before they discovered that the voice belonged to a mouse. "This is how the song should go," said the mouse.

"The thing that I like best to eat is something sweet, like cheese."

Then Knarf and the cow and the robin heard an even smaller and fainter voice. It seemed to come from the branch of the tree.

"Your songs are all wrong," said the small and faint voice.

"Who are you?" asked everybody, looking up into the tree. The small and faint voice just gave a small and faint chuckle.

Then Knarf and the cow and the robin and the mouse, by staring very hard at the tree, finally discovered that the small and faint voice was coming from a very small, and faintly coloured caterpillar.

"This is how the song should really go," said the caterpillar.

The nautical look is very much in evidence and this season is no exception. Here it is in the current handling, youthful, pert and smart. Adorning the white cotton blouse is a navy-striped sailor collar and a four-in-hand tie of navy silk. Three buttons covered in navy silk close the front. Worn with the blouse are pants of navy blue cotton gabardine with elasticated waistband, pockets in side seams and laced legs. A nice seafaring costume with which to sail through a summer vacation.

Household Hints

Library paste rubbed on thin material will make it easier to handle in sewing buttonholes.

Custard will bake evenly, and not become watery, if you place the baking dish in a pan of water.

This was decided unanimously tonight by the Victorian Cyclists' Union Council whose President Mr. Gray, said Mr Young's outburst might have been made "for the spur of the moment but it was not good sportsmanship". Mr Young had withdrawn 1 Australian cyclist after a dispute following the disqualification of an Australian rider by the Australian Games Manager. Mr Jim Eve, countered Mr Young's move by saying the cycling manager had "erred" and that Australians would compete in the remaining events.

The Players' Union had asked for an inquiry after they had been told that the players would not be paid £50 for the matches, although an Industrial Disputes Tribunal had decided in July 1953: "Each player selected for international matches shall receive not less than £50."

Vienna, Aug. 5

Believe it or not, there is still one thing which even the Russians admit was not invented in Russia — soccer. Soccer is an invention of the West and Russia is lagging behind, one Russian sports official admitted here. But Soviet players will catch up by Russia's World Cup debut in 1968, he predicted.

W. A. Slnjavski, Radio Moscow's official sports commentator, went so far as to concede that "Western soccer is older and, therefore, better

"We did not compete in this year's World Cup because our players are still in a stage of learning," Sinjavski said.

"However, we will definitely compete in the World Cup in 1990."

During their stay in Austria, the Russians were training two hours every day. All the players seemed to be perfect track and field athletes, showing impressive sprints, broad and high jumps.

Their food rations were strictly prescribed by the accompanying doctor: 'No soup, no fat, no pastry, no wine, only fatless veal or beefsteak, salad and fresh fruits — everything in small rations.'

In Austria, the Dynamo XI had the following results:
Vs Rapid (Austrian champion 1954) 0-1, Vs Austria FC, (runner-up) 1-1, Vs Linzer ASK (sixth-ranked, Austrian First League) 6-3.

LACK EXPERIENCE

Experts commented on Dynamo's performance in Austria as follows: Excellent in strength, speed, heading, positioning and discipline, but weak in shooting.

and finishing. There were almost no signs of "brainwork" or surprising moves and experts said that this was a result of Dynamo's lack of international experience.
